Coffee County High Sheriff Neil Grantham Killed Here Thursday Morning

The well-liked Sheriff of Coffee County, C. F. "Neil" Grantham, was shot dead early Thursday morning in a blaze of bullets from a 38-caliber pistol, believed to be a revolver now in possession of law officers.

Arrested shortly after the shooting and charged with first-degree murder was Billy Joe Magwood of Rt. 4, Elba. Magwood has served time in the Coffee County jail while Grantham was sheriff. He is a veteran of the Vietnam war, where he received injuries in combat.

Witnesses said the shooting and took several shots at the assailant, said the man fired at him twice. At first, Weeks could only tell officers that it was a black man in an old blue car. He said he knew him, but couldn't remember the name. Later, he remembered the name, and officers immediately went to the farm of his parents, where he lived alone in a small house. Magwood was arrested without any resistance, and after questioning in the Elba courthouse, was taken to the Pike County jail in Troy where he remains at press time.

When Weeks remembered a name to put with his description of the hunted man, several carloads of officers converged on the farm. However, Magwood reportedly saw them coming after they had surrounded the house, and as one officer said, he yelled "Here I am, police, on the porch." He was unarmed when State Trooper R. W. Whitworth arrested him and handcuffed him with handcuffs belonging to Elba policeman Buddy King.

Officers obtained a search warrant for the small house Magwood occupied several hundred yards up a dead-end road, and found several guns and extra ammunition. They reportedly found a 38-caliber revolver on the sofa in the living room, believed to be the murder weapon. The blue car setting in front of the house fit the description of the killer's car as given by eye witnesses.

Unconfirmed reports indicate that law officers found several notes in the house with names of court officials and Elba businessmen. Officers have not explained why they feel that at least one of the lists was a "hit list." However, they have confirmed that Sheriff Grantham's name was on at least one of the lists.

HONOR GUARD at the casket of the late Sheriff Neil Grantham was made up of Coffee County law enforcement officers as a final tribute to the well-liked "high sheriff." Those in the above picture are, from left: Verdell Schuch, Enterprise Police Department; James Spurin, Elba Police Department, and Tommy Gleson of the New Brockton Police Department.

Blackmon had gone to the Riverside Restaurant and gotten a man to call the police and report the shooting.

Police arrived to find Morris on the floor in a back room with a shotgun wound in the neck. He apparently died instantly. A 12-gauge single shot shotgun was lying on an open sofa bed in the front room of the house. It had been fired recently and officers said they removed a spent shell from the gun.

Morris and Reeves were friends but had had some trouble in past months. Reeves suffered a cut on his back that took multiple stitches to repair several weeks ago and he charged Morris with cutting him. The case was heard in District Court the day court was held on the courthouse steps. Reeves asked that the charges be dropped, "because they were friends, and he didn't want Morris to lose his job." Noting the seriousness of the act, Judge McAlley refused to allow him to drop the charges and heard the case.

When officers started pouring in to assist, a radio call from the Trooper station

Grantham was rushed to the Elba General Hospital by the Elba Rescue Squad, but was pronounced dead on arrival. Weeks and Jailer John Barnes had summoned help and law officers fanned out over the county setting up road blocks, with the information that the Sheriff had been shot by a young black man driving an old blue car. Law enforcement officers from surrounding towns and counties responded immediately, and within minutes every road and pig trail leaving Coffee County was covered by roadblocks. Listening to the activities on the police radio, observers were amazed at the instant reaction and the unhesitated proficiency that was evident in the thirty minutes that elapsed between the shooting and the arrest of the suspect.

Magwood had recently attempted to file several lawsuits against judges, lawyers and this newspaper. He appeared in court on some drug-related charges and later served time in the jail. Word of the lawsuits indicated he felt the courts had mistreated him, the lawyers representing him had not done a good job, and this newspaper for "libel and contributing to slander." Magwood told a representative of this newspaper in 1975 that he had plans for going into business in Elba, and reports of his being arrested would hurt his reputation in the business community. It is not known if he ever entered any retail business.

The papers reported to be in his handwriting indicated he had tried to get a number of lawyers to handle his $4.2 million lawsuits. The papers were mailed to Circuit Judge Terry Butts by certified mail. Butts transferred them to Circuit Judge Riley Green, as Butts was involved in the proceedings. Green returned them to Magwood and advised him that he could "if desired, may comply with the Alabama Rules of Civil Procedure." This February 9 letter by Green was apparently the last action on the matters.

Reeves Charged With Shooting Death Of Morris

Arrested and lodged in the Coffee County jail, charged with 1st degree murder is Donald Reeves, who is also known as "Knothole" Reeves, a nickname he disliked and protested the use of to his face.

Officers reported that Reeves had gone to a neighbor, Irvin Blackmon and told his story of the shooting.

Elba police report Miss May was apparently suffering from a self-inflicted gunshot from a 22-caliber pistol. They report that the shot was lodged against her spine, and possibly causing paralysis. Miss May was not a native of the Elba area and was living with friends on Taylor Mill Road, within the city limits.

Barry M. Giles, assistant vice president of the Elba Exchange Bank, has been named the 1979 Coffee County chairman for the Leukemia Society of America. The announcement is made by H. F. Singleton, state campaign chairman for the Alabama Chapter.

The house reportedly occupied by Billy Joe Magwood and searched by law officers immediately after the arrest last Thursday morning.

The blue Chevrolet in the foreground fit the description of the get-away car.

With Ferrin Cox

The most shocking, depressing news and thoughts we have this week are about the shooting death of our friend, Neil Grantham, who happened to be also Sheriff of Coffee County. We shudder when we realize that he was probably the last friend he talked with prior to his sudden death. His Thursday morning routine included stopping at our office to get a copy of the latest edition and inviting the editor to have a cup of coffee with him at the jail. We hadn't quite completed our weekly newspaper mailing and declined the offer, as we often have done. We will never get the chance again.

I recall a time when Neil was a deputy and had a rash of cases, and long hours of work. The late Ralph Sparks was sheriff and had told Neil to take some time off and "hide." We decided to go fishing and no person except the sheriff was to know where Neil was for the afternoon. Well, when he went to park his county-owned car and get his fishing gear, someone stopped to talk to him. When he got out of the car, he was told that he had been shot. Neil was taken to the hospital, but he never came back. He was 40 years old.

The Elba School Board is seriously looking at plans for upgrading the facilities at the Elba High School and Junior High. They are working with facts and figures in an effort to devise a plan of action on securing a new building. We salute these efforts and project they will come up with something (with the help of the City Council) that will eventually result in a solution to this pressing problem.

There is still some thoughts of holding a new election to fill the unexpired term of the late Sheriff Grantham, but we read the law books to say it doesn't happen that way. When the law says, "the governor SHALL appoint and he SHALL serve the unexpired term" that is pretty plain, even for a law. We urge the powers of government to do something immediately, because the longer we wait, the more people get crossed over opinions.

The Kinston Bulldogs won their first game in the State Basketball playoffs Wednesday morning. They play again Friday morning. We wish them luck.

The flooding rains that hit Alabama and Florida last week-end were also evident in Coffee County but thank goodness they didn't cause any flooding of the Pea River in Elba. We don't wish anyone else had luck, but the most serious floods are those that hit us.

Marvin Melvain and Danny Bradley are probably two of the most compatible people in Coffee County. This is great, due to the fact they must jointly operate as Sheriff of Coffee County until a permanent appointment is made. We couldn't do their job but have offered them both any help we could possibly be during this transition time.

Indications are that the proposed new constitution is in trouble and any attempt to call a special session of the Alabama Legislature for this purpose will be postponed again and maybe until after the regular session. Too many folks are finding too many addressed problems in the proposal. The announced plan to set up gas rationing on a "per car" basis will cause a jump in the price of junker cars, as drivers needing extra gas will buy the broken down junker, but yet a tax and let it sit somewhere long enough to get a new car issued. Ye ole editor might even add another junker to his fleet.

We have had our share of shootings in Elba lately. There have been three since Neil Grantham was killed, one resulting in a death and another with possible permanent injuries. Also it is disturbing to hear so many people with excess to avoid the grand jury call on the shooting death of Grantham. This special call will probably last a half day and yet over half of the thirty people summoned have asked to be excused. As one person close to the courts said this week, "People fuss about our lack of fair justice and strong courts, but run from service when asked to their duty." Think about it, folks.

courthouse issue in Coffee County. As the letter explains, Holley felt our neighboring paper had misquoted him and when he asked for a correction he feels the correction article carried some misinterpretations.

Roy M. Shoffner
THE ENTERPRISE LEDGER
Enterprise, Alabama 36330

Dear Mr. Shoffner: The courthouse, additional taxes, and jail, were discussed in a recent editorial of THE ENTERPRISE LEDGER. In the first half of the article, you attempted, and I think, succeeded in correcting a recent address by me to the Coffee County Commission. Your apology concerning this error is accepted.

With respect to our conversation, noted in your article as "implication" was in error. I would be quick to acknowledge that words, spoken in general conversation, such as those of our conversation, are subject to interpretation.

My purpose in writing this letter is to clarify the last half of that editorial. I have always prided myself in being consistent and honest with the citizens I represent with respect to the dual county courthouse system of Coffee County. To set that article in question and the record straight, I would like to explain my personal feelings concerning the dual courthouse system.

I feel today, as I felt four years ago, that Coffee County can afford two courthouses and two jails. It has never been my intention to cause hard feelings, diversion or hamper the progress of our county. My position is very simple. New Brokton has appeal as a location for a single courthouse because of its location. Because of its location, New Brokton was presented as a compromise and still has that same appeal. Elba, Enterprise, or Kinston for that matter, would make satisfactory locations for a courthouse and jail, yet the element of compromise doesn't exist in these locations. Polarization of our citizens supporting their particular cities has reached unprecedented proportion and at this particular time, compromise seems remote, yet not unattainable.

In conclusion, let me say that I do not vision myself as being in anyone's corner, nor do I vision myself in opposition to anyone. I support my own position. I am in my own corner. I still appeal for compromise and unity. Let us be one.

Sincerely,
Jimmy W. Holley

Dear Sir:
As the Director of the Coffee County Department of Pensions and Security, I would like to express the extreme loss which this agency feels regarding the untimely death of Sheriff Neil Grantham. Sheriff Grantham worked very cooperatively with this agency and went beyond the call of duty in assisting us in our efforts to protect abused and neglected children in Coffee County. Sheriff Grantham and his deputies stood ready at all times to assist us in our efforts to investigate reports of child abuse and neglect so that we could discharge our responsibilities in protecting these children. Sheriff Grantham was a very warm and understanding person and discharged his responsibilities in a very professional manner.

This agency is deeply grieved over the death of Sheriff Grantham. As director of this agency I want to know that along with them, we will miss him greatly. Sincerely,

Letter to the Editor:
I would like to express my appreciation and that of all employees at Windham Power Lifts, Inc., to the city employees of the Electric Department for the long hard hours of work they experienced to restore power to the plant.

The power outage was caused by the storm that passed through the area during the weekend of March 3rd and 4th. The employees of the City Department worked until the very wee hours of the morning of March 4th to get the power back on line to insure power was available to operate the plant. Again we appreciate the efforts of all concerned in restoring the power to Windham Power Lifts, Inc.

Dear Sir:
As the Director of the Coffee County Department of Pensions and Security, I would like to express the extreme loss which this agency feels regarding the untimely death of Sheriff Neil Grantham. Sheriff Grantham worked very cooperatively with this agency and went beyond the call of duty in assisting us in our efforts to protect abused and neglected children in Coffee County. Sheriff Grantham and his deputies stood ready at all times to assist us in our efforts to investigate reports of child abuse and neglect so that we could discharge our responsibilities in protecting these children. Sheriff Grantham was a very warm and understanding person and discharged his responsibilities in a very professional manner.

This agency is deeply grieved over the death of Sheriff Grantham. As director of this agency I want to know that along with them, we will miss him greatly. Sincerely,
Ronald C. Smith

THE PRESSBOX

With Ricky Mulara, Sports Editor

Well, it's state tournament time, and it should be quite a week of basketball at Tuscaloosa. The tourney started Tuesday night with four Class 4A games being played, and before it's over, a total of 32 games will have been played. The only Coffee County team to make the tourney was the Kinston Bulldogs, and they should do real well in state competition. The Bulldogs posted a 24-5 record and play a tough, hard-nosed style of basketball that challenges their opponents. Coach Pete Kelley doesn't have any real stars, but they have a "team," and that's what it's all about.

The sunny weather Monday reminded me that it's getting close to softball season. The men's basketball league still has two weeks left, and as soon as it ends, it will be time to start getting ready! Recreation Director Dennis Smith has already started work on the ballfields and he has poured a whole lot of dirt on all the fields.

The City will run both the men's and women's softball leagues this summer, as well as Babe Ruth, Dixie Youth and Minor League baseball. For the first time ever, all the leagues will use sanctioned umpires and it should eliminate all the hassles. It looks like a busy summer.

The Elba Tigers are in the midst of spring football training, and the football program at Elba High is definitely healthy! Over 60 boys are out for football, and they all are showing a real desire to compete. Coach Wood and his staff are doing a good job, and it looks like a good year ahead for Tiger football fans.

When the N.C.A.A. pairings were announced Sunday, I was a little surprised at some of the teams that got invited. New Mexico State didn't impress me on TV, but they got invited, as did South Alabama. The Jags have a good team, but I don't think they're in the same class with Kentucky, who didn't get invited. Oh well, I'm sure the weak teams will be eliminated and the cream of the tourney will rise to the top!

I'm not really sure who will win the State tourney, but I'm not looking for the south to pull a clean sweep like it did in football. In Class A, the south has a good shot with Kinston and Rebecca Comer leading the way, while in 2A, the Headland Rams are the best bet. I don't expect Troy to win 3A, but they could surprise me. In 4A, I think Carver will repeat.

See ya later

Rebecca Comer

Kongs Zion

Chapel 83-58

The Zion Chapel Rebels made it to the semifinals of the Region 3 tournament last week before falling to Rebecca Comer 83-58, last Thursday night. The loss left the Rebels with a final record of 11-14, while Rebecca Comer advanced its state to 21-7, and advanced to the state tournament.

The game was close in the early going as Zion Chapel battled the highly-talented King Kongs to a 10-10 tie midway through the opening stanza, Rebecca Comer managed to pull away to a 15-14 lead at the end of the quarter and slowly took charge as they moved ahead 33-32 at the half.

The third quarter proved to be the Rebels' downfall as the Kongs outscored Zion Chapel 18-8 to move into a solid 57-40 lead. The Rebels speeded up their attack in the final stanza in an attempt to catch up, but it just wasn't to be as Comer pulled even further ahead and won 83-58.

R. Comer (33): Upshaw 12, Screws 6, Facer 14, Banks 30, Peterson 2, Westbrook 14, Comer 2, Robinson 1, Williams 2.

Z. Chapel (38): Downing 22, Berry 6, Mauer 7, Foley 12, Pearson 2, Bray 2.

"We concentrated too much on the big man and they just beat us," said Rebel Coach Mike Lindsey after the loss. "We held Facer to only 4 points in the first three quarters, and it left us weak in other areas. Comer substituted throughout the game, and it wore us down. I'm not taking anything away from Comer - they simply were too much."

Spring Grid Training

Continues At Elba High

The Elba Tigers continued spring football drills last week and Coach Mack Wood stated, "Considering the rainy weather we had a pretty good week's work."

"We got everybody an offensive and defensive position," added Wood, "and we're still looking for people to fill a couple of holes. We're in good shape at offensive line, defensive line, and offensive backs and defensive backs, but still needs some linebackers and ends."

"We'll try to add a little more on offense and defense this week," said Wood, "and of course we'll continue to work on the basic fundamentals—blocking and tackling. Overall, it was a pretty good week of work. We started with 63 boys and still have 62 out, and that shows the players are dedicated. We only have 1 or 2 boys out that didn't work with our off-season program and that helps a lot. We've got a spirited group that is willing to work."

"We had a scrimmage on Friday," said Coach Wood, "and it went okay. The execution was spotty, the blocking and tackling was good and the attitude of the boys was real good. We've got a lot of work left to do, and hope to put in a few more offensive plays and work on team defense."

In closing, Wood stated, "We are getting a good look at all the players and think things are going along well."

Kinston Bulldogs Bury Pleasant Home 93-82 To Win Region 2 Cage Title

The Kinston Bulldogs earned a trip to the State tournament for the first time in 10 years last Saturday night by burying the Pleasant Home Eagles 93-82 at Pleasant Home.

The win pushed Kinston's record to 24-5, while Pleasant Home ended the year at 18-12.

The Class A, Region 2 title match started off with both teams playing well before the large, overflow crowd, and Kinston edged ahead late in the stanza to grab a 15-12 lead. Kinston began to press in the second stanza, and when Pleasant Home retaliated with a press of their own, the game turned into a "run-and-gun" affair. Kinston pulled into a 16-point lead midway through the period, and at the half, the Bulldogs were on top 48-36.

The run-and-gun antics in the second quarter made the game exciting to the fans, but it took its toll on both teams as fouls began to mount up. Kinston seemed snafu in the third quarter, as the Dogs were whittled for countless fouls as they jumped to an early 15-4 lead. The Bulldogs refused to let up, however, and pulled within 15-11 at the end of the first quarter. The fourth quarter was a repeat of the second, as both teams began to run and foul. The Eagles pulled to within 2 points at 40-38, but Kinston hung tough, 70-68 with 3:32 left in the game, but Kinston hit some big free throws late in the game to pull away and claim the Region 2 title.

Thirty percent of the money will be given to the first place winners. Thirty percent to the second place winners. Ten percent to the person who catches the largest fish.

The entry of the Cox home on Clifton Avenue was hung with a cluster of "Wedding Bells" fashioned from graters and other kitchen utensils mounted on a woven tray and tied with red checked ribbons. The party rooms were decorated with arrangements of red and white carnations interspersed with branches of flowering quince.

Arriving guests brought their gifts hidden in brown paper grocery bags which were deposited in a large grocery cart which was later rolled to the honoree. Prior to the opening of the gifts, songs and games were led by the hostesses.

For the party Cindi wore a white skirt, orange silk blouse and a sashed crepe overblouse in shades of tan, orange and navy.

The hostesses presented Cindi with an accordion recipe file for her kitchen and, also, the door decorations. Colorful valentine invitations summoned these to the party: Mrs. J. W. Stokes, mother of the honoree, Mrs. Mark Vaughan and Miss Barbara York of Montgomery, Mrs. Tom Maddox of Enterprise, Mrs. Jeff Bimbo, Mrs. Fred Young, Mrs. Jack Vaughan, Mrs. Kenneth Baker, Miss Wilma Anderson, Miss Wendy Anderson, Mrs. David Stokes, Mrs. Jeff Smoker, Miss Teresa Tatum, Miss Holly Vaughan, Mrs. Dean Smith, Mrs. Dennis Lawford, Mrs. Harold Wayne Lawford, Mrs. David Bandiera and Miss JoAnn Kendrick.

BLEED THROUGH

SCENES FROM THE LIFE OF OUR BELOVED SHERIFF & FRIEND

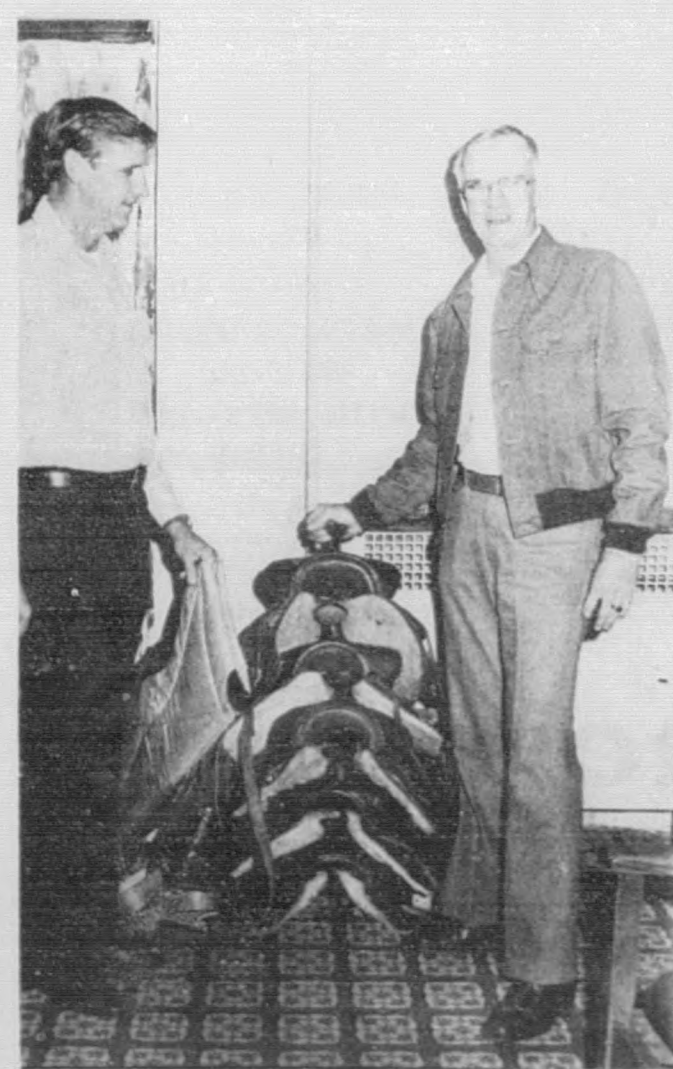

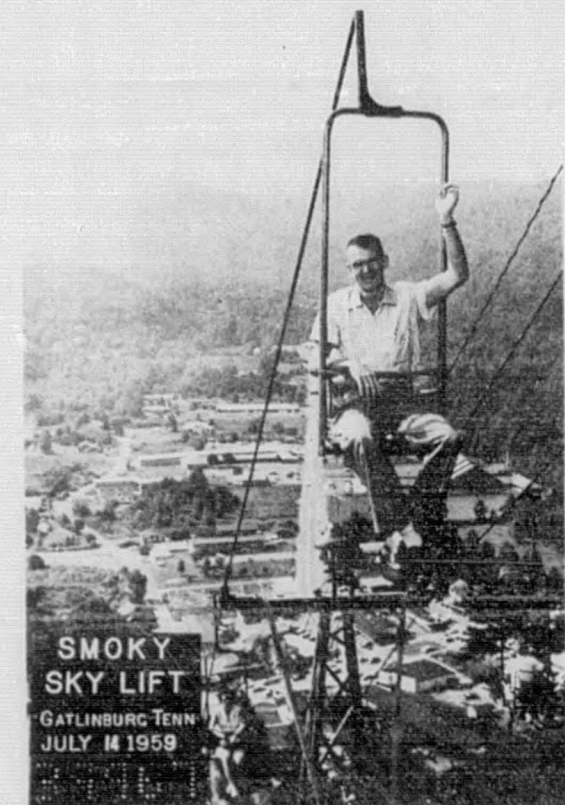

These pictures are from the life of the late Neil Grantham. They show a man who enjoyed life, and the people who made up his life.

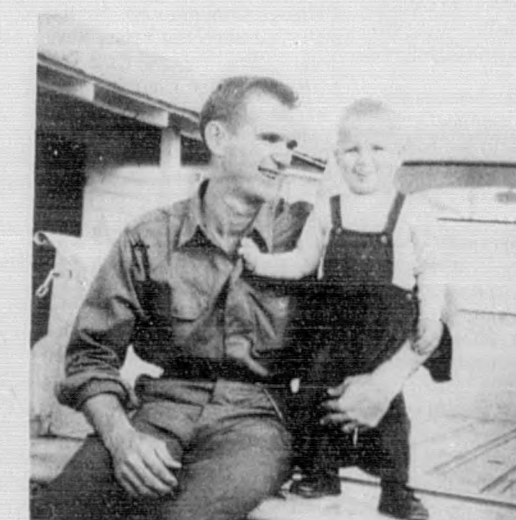

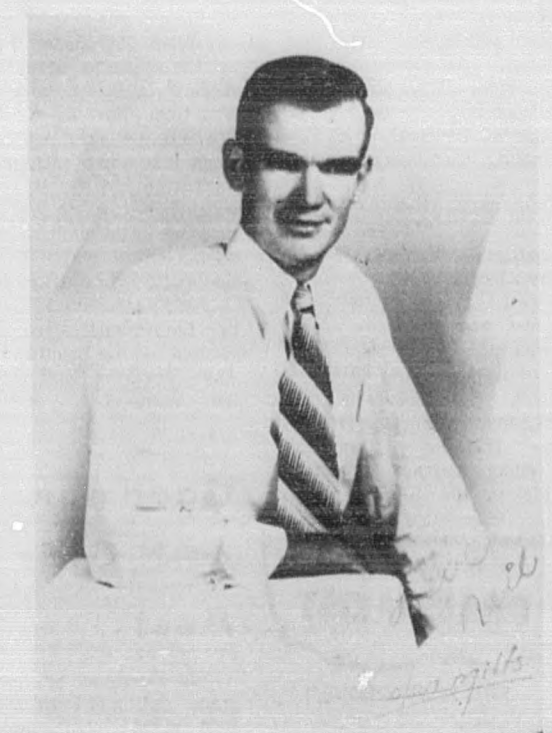

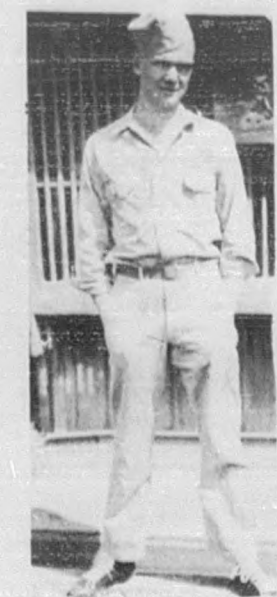

During his military years, the years he operated a rolling store and grocery store, and the years in the Sheriff's Department - Neil Grantham shared this enjoyment with everyone he met.

His work as a law enforcement officer placed him in some unpleasant situations, but no law officer has ever known him to be rude or offensive to citizens he was arresting or had in custody. This newspaper is incapable of writing a more fitting tribute than these pictures of a man obviously enjoying life. This is a better place to live because he chose to pass this way.

Goodman 4-H Girls Meet

KRS SCARBOROUGH

Our children are really important to us and we want to do our best to make sure they are. One of the most important things we can do for our children is to keep them healthy. This is why we have a record on our children's health. Every parent should have a record on their child. The record is the best way to keep track of your child's health. It helps you to see if there are any problems and to get them fixed before they become serious. It also helps you to see if your child is growing and developing normally. So, make sure you have a record on your child. It's the best way to keep them healthy and happy.

The Goodman 4th and 5th grade girls met February 13, 1979 in the club room. The meeting was called to order by the president, Sherry Wallace. After group singing, which was led by our song leaders Anita Bryant and Nina Cawley, the vice president, Rhonda Smith, led the pledges to the American flag. The devotion was given by Kim Dawson, our secretary. Mary Beau called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The minutes were approved. Subjects discussed under business were: A Fashion show and record books. The vice-president, Rhonda Smith, introduced the program "Decorating T-shirts" which was given by Mrs. Myra Rhoades. After the program, the president adjourned the meeting until next month at the same time and place. Game leaders Patricia Cawley and Pamela Thomas led the group in playing games. Douglas MacArthur State Technical College has received equipment from Alabama Industrial Development Training to modernize its air conditioning and refrigeration department. The equipment was placed as a cooperative effort between local industries and MacArthur Tech. Local industries will be using the testing equipment as needed in their own industry and it will also be used for training students. "Equipment used for training technical colleges must advance in order to meet the current demands. In other words, what is sufficient today, may be obsolete tomorrow," said E. C. Nevin, President of MacArthur Technical College. "This additional equipment will allow us to completely update the air conditioning and refrigeration division of the school," Nevin added. George Howard, director of A.I.D. Training, said the equipment is part of a statewide effort to assist technical colleges in meeting the needs of local industry. MacArthur Tech is one of eight state technical colleges being assisted by A.I.D. Training with tools and equipment. "We are pleased to aid the college by making this equipment available. Through such programs, Alabama can better meet the needs of industry and increase the skills and wages of the people," Howard said.
